Important Reduction in Passenger Rates Over the Pennsylvania Rail-

Following up the reduction made in through passenger rates between New York and Pittsburg, the Pennsylvania Raliroad Company announce the issue, on and after to day, of ten days' excursion tickets between New York and Washington at a rate of $10, and between New York and Baltimore at a rate of $8. Five day excursion tickets will also be sold between New York and Wilmington, Del., at a rate of $5. This reduction is not only in the line of that policy which seeks to foster the growth of business whenever it shows a tendency toward improvement, but is also a further step toward disarming the ticket scalpers, who have been dealing in tickets between these important cities. A stopover will be allowed on all of these tickets at Philadelphis; also at Baltimore on those issued between New York and Washington. The Issue on excursion tickets will not be The issue on excursion tickets will not be testricted to New York, but will extend to restricted to New York, but will extend to all the more important stations on the Penn-sylvania Railroad system.

At Albaugh's last night the American Opera Company, ably assisted by Thomas' orchestra, opened its four nights' season to a fashionable audience of brilliance and quantity. Gluck's opera of "Orpheus and Eurydice" was given, and while it was a slightly heavier burden than the average American audience carries with smiling slightly heavier burden than the average American audience carries with smiling buoyancy, the scenic effects were such as to startic into a forgetfulness of weariness. The sixty-pieced orchestra and the hundred-voiced chorus combined with the incidental divertisement of a fine ballet added to the opera an interest which made the performance as an entirety very acceptable even to the unmusical. The scenery, not to be profane, was infernally good, and the representations of Hades were fully up to the ideas of those who are supposed to be judges of that historic and caloric locality. Miss Juch and Mme. Hastreiter sang with fine effect. To-night "The Marriage of Jeannette" and Delibes' famous speciacular ballet "Sylvia."

edy work of the higher class, and these Mrs. Drew, Mr. Sydney Drew, Miss Sydney Cowell and Mr. J. H. Fitzpatrick took advantage of. There is very little to "Engaged." It has no plot to speak of, being one of those plays which depend upon entertaining an antilence by a series of mild complications growing out of the uncontrolled susceptibilities of a young man. Though there is not much of a play, the good acting of those in the cast and the quiet fun of it all make the presentation of "Engaged" a very chjoyable entertainment. where more instruction can be gained in an bour than in a month from books. The show P. T. Barnum brings here on May 10 is a great national affair, and in the fall will visit Europe to astonish the people equally as much as it has done in this country; so this is positively the last chance to see this enormously large exhibition. No event creates the same sensation as the advent of these combined nine shows in one into a town, and it is gravely to be doubted if anywhere on the face of the globe there exists so grand and truly overwhelming an exhibition. When one really considers that it requires three rings, each 45 feet in diameter, an elevated stage 60x80 feet, and a huge hippodrome track 40 feet wide and nearly half a mile around in which to entertain and delight the audience with 100 marvelous acts of various kinds, it ceases to be a wonder that an ovation is tendered them everywhere. last night. It is said that fifteen thousand were present to witness the opening performance. It is certainly a most signal triumph of a good show and cheap prices. The circus performances in a single ring are first-class and gave universal satisfaction. The menagerie is excellent, containing many rare and valuable animals, besides the twelve performing elephants. With regard to the numerous and diversified acts in the arena, no criticisms are needed. In fact Washington has never seen the leading equestrian feats excelled by an show in the country. Mr. O'Brien's show is indeed worthy the crowded houses and the generous recognition it everywhere receives. The show will remain open every afternoon this week and will, of course, be packed at every performance. " " " Bonds
